To whom it may concern:

It is with great satisfaction that I write this letter for Terry Halliburton and his crew. Badger Roofing performed to the highest of my expectations for quality workmanship, standards lacking in the construction industry today, knowledge of their craft, staying on schedule, housekeeping, being on site early and leaving late and first and foremost; the ability to perform their jobs safely without compromise.

We had a very few obstacles here, and as we began to run into them, Terry and his crew did not question why or what; they just did their jobs and at the highest possible level of professionalism.

Kevcon Inc's success is directly related to how well our subcontractors and contractors perform. It was a real pleasure working with the whole staff at Badger Roofing and I would highly recommend them to anyone with roofing concerns or needs.

Warm regards,
